ABOUT THE TUTOR

One of the greatest joys in my life was having the opportunity to homeschool my children all the way through high school. The experience was rewarding, challenging and yes, at times, frustrating but I wouldn't have traded it for the world!

My husband and I were so thankful that the Lord led us to the decision to homeschool shortly after our first child was born. We will forever be thankful for the extra time we had with our children and the experiences we were able to share as a family.

My children have now graduated from college and are working in their chosen field. Although I am no longer homeschooling my own children, I am grateful to still have the opportunity to work with other homeschooled children in a teaching capacity.

My degree is in Early Childhood Education. For several years, I taught at a private school. Prior to the birth of our first child, I was a teacher and the director of a Christian preschool. During the summer months, I worked as a children's librarian and focused on summer reading programs.

I am so blessed to work with homeschool families and their children in this loving, Christian environment.
